Police Chief's Message

Dear Police Officer Candidate,

LPD – Loyalty. Pride. Dedication. These are more than mere words emblazoned on our patch. They embody the spirit of what it means to be a Lincolnshire Police Officer. We are loyal to the citizens, businesses, and visitors of Lincolnshire. We are proud and feel fortunate to serve in one of the premier communities in the country that supports the mission and values of the police department. We are dedicated to defending those principles found within the Constitution of the United States of America, the laws of the State of Illinois, and the charter of the Village of Lincolnshire.

This is one of the most challenging, yet rewarding, times to be a police officer.

Never have we had to prove our worth, more than we do today. The police profession needs people who know what's at stake and can rise to the challenge of this moment. The men and women of the Lincolnshire Police Department continue to work hard every day, regardless of the danger or the circumstances, to protect and defend those in Lincolnshire with honor. As the leader of the Lincolnshire Police Department my personal beliefs in serving the community are fairly simple—fight against evil, protect the innocent, and uphold justice. While there is no finish line in law enforcement, the rewards come every time you help someone. You will be touching individual's lives daily, and the positive impact is something they will remember forever.

Police work is more than just a job—it is a calling.

Being a police officer carries a heavy burden and entering a career in law enforcement is unlike any other occupational field. Many candidates apply to as many departments as possible to broaden their chances of success. However, the outcome may be a bad fit, both for the officer and the agency. Selecting the right person to wear our badge is one of our most critical decisions. Earning the right to be a Lincolnshire Police Officer means earning the respect and trust of our citizens. We do not take this responsibility lightly.

Our selection process is unlike most. This is intentional. Instead of a traditional testing procedure, a more focused and individualized approach is taken. First, all applications are screened to identify the strongest candidates to participate. This group will then be invited to our orientation and interview process. A pool of qualifying candidates will then be selected for final interviews with the Chief of Police.

Our beliefs.

We believe in diversity. Every person has their own unique story and background. Only by blending these differences and talents together, can we achieve our maximum potential.

We believe in teamwork. Policing is both a singular and group effort. An officer must be able to operate individually and make sound decisions quickly that affect others. Yet, officers need to also work cooperatively, often in emergencies and under stress. This duality requires flexibility and the ability to adapt and accept the ambiguity of the unknown. The only way to successfully achieve this is to be able to rely on each other and be someone who can be relied upon. While each officer must be able to work independently, we know that together we are stronger.

We believe small is good. We are a flat organization that embraces innovation, ideas, and change. All Police Department employees are asked to look for ways to improve themselves, the Department, and the Village. Across the organization, several employee-driven committees have been formed to reinforce this idea. Whether you are the Chief of Police or the newest employee on the team, the best idea in the room wins.

We believe in training. Part of being a learning organization is looking toward the future. We forecast with the mindset, "If you can predict it, you can plan for it," and understand law enforcement changes dramatically in a short time. Valuing professional development is one of the ways to stay ahead of the curve, and further helps us to implement a best-practices philosophy. As a result, we are committed to being one of the best-trained law enforcement agencies in the nation.

I strongly encourage you to take the time to carefully read through our application packet. You will find a great deal of information to help you decide if our agency is the right fit for you. I believe our Police Department is special and has much to offer individuals with a positive attitude, strong work ethic, and a passion for public service. Thank you for your interest, time, and effort as you begin your journey and continue through the hiring process.

With warmest regards,
